

Driving behavior can have a direct effect on fuel economy

The way a driver operates a vehicle can have a direct positive or negative effect on fuel economy. Conservative drivers will always:

- Avoid jack rabbit starts
- Avoid excessive idling
- Obey the speed limit
- Follow smart, direct routes
- Keep their vehicles properly tuned